

New Policy for Overseas & out of USA Shipping

Due to the uncertainties of shipping out of the USA including potential unknown taxes & duty charges we will package and prepare for shipment the item being purchased but we require you to use your own account with a shipper such as UPS, Federal Express, DHL, etc. and you simply issue a "Call Pick-up" order with them for the item. This would be considered a direct customer pick-up arrangement and our responsibility for loss, damage, theft, not delivered to the correct address, taxes & duties, etc. ends when the item is given to and signed for by the shipper you have sent.

If you do not have an account open with a shipper already you can easily open one in a matter of minutes via phone or internet using your existing bank or credit card. Once opened you place an order for pick-up, contact us for the pickup location and simply fax or email us a shipping label that we will place on the package. Our only fee in these cases, in addition the cost of the item itself will be a nominal packaging charge dependant on the items size, weight, delicacy, etc.

If you have additional questions or need help with doing any of this don't hesitate to ask, thank you for your understanding.
